Sub:- Regarding Recovery of special fuel surcharge.

With reference to special fuel surcharge to be imposed in 36 EMI in case of monthly consumers in 18 EMI in case of bi-monthly consumers, the treatment in case of DC & PDC consumers is prescribed as below-

1. The consumers is either DC or PDC in current date but consumption in base period i.e. April-18 to June-18 is found:
 - a. If consumer is DC: impose 0.05/0.10 paisa (as the case may be) till consumer remains DC. Whenever consumer's status is changed from DC to PDC all balance instalments be charged before changing the status to PDC.
 - b. If consumer is PDC: impose all the amount of special fuel surcharge in single instalment.
2. The consumer's status is regular on current date and changed to DC: Prior to the status is changed to DC the special fuel surcharge will be charged as regular consumer @ 0.05/0.10 paisa (as the case may be) and keep charging in the same manner till status remains DC.
3. The consumer's status is regular on current date and changed to DC and thereafter PDC : Prior to the status is changed to PDC the special fuel surcharge will be charged as regular consumer @ 0.05/0.10 paisa (as the case may be). Before changing the status from DC to PDC all balance of special fuel surcharge will be imposed all together.

As fuel surcharge is being imposed regularly and sometimes amount of more than one quarter is being imposed in single bill, it is hard to calculate correct amount of fuel surcharge therefore the requirement of fuel surcharge ledger is seen mandatory. Kindly arrange seprate ledger/report containing amount imposed till date and balance amount to be imposed of fuel surcharge through OCM.
